In 2025, JCI Hong Kong's theme, "We are Leaders", reminds us of the core belief of our organization: to serve as a global development platform for young leaders and to emphasize the importance of leadership. Leadership is not just about holding a title or position; it's about being a person of influence–someone who inspires others to dream, learn, and achieve more. This is especially vital in uncertain times.

As highlighted in the Harvard Business Review article "What Employees Need from Leaders in Uncertain Times", key leadership qualities such as clarity, empathy, adaptability, and empowerment are essential to help teams navigate challenges successfully. JCI Queensway's focus on real-world experience and extensive outreach to partnership enables members to hone their leadership abilities. From leading impactful projects to delivering speeches and stepping into leadership roles, JCI Queensway ensures every member is prepared to lead with pride and purpose. These experiences foster confidence, collaboration, and innovation–all essential skills for creating meaningful change.

As NAEO, I encourage every member, whether new or experienced, to actively engage in the exciting initiatives and events planned for the year .Whether it's through community development projects like the "Wheels be your friends", business networking events such as "JCI in Business" and "Extraordinary Branding Awards", international collaborations at Area Conferences and visits, or leadership training programs, each experience is a stepping stone toward realizing your full potential as an outstanding leader.

With the inspiring theme "Lead with Pride, Be a Leader" and under President Coeus Leung's leadership, alongside the collective vision of the 2025 Board of Directors, I am confident that JCI Queensway will continue to thrive as a hub for leadership excellence. This year also marks the 75th anniversary of JCI Hong Kong. I warmly invite you to join us in this milestone year, participating in our programs in "Jaycee Week" alongside delegates from across the globe as we honor the remarkable achievement of JCI Hong Kong together.

Lead with pride, and together, let's be the leaders who create a brighter future for Hong Kong and beyond!

STARTING WITH OKINAWA SISTER CHAPTER, SPANNING GLOBAL HORIZONS

老照片里的緣分起點

總會辦公室的老照片，定格著當年赴沖繩簽姊妹會協議的瞬間 —— 笑臉與緊握的手，瞬間拉回無即時通訊的年代。那時無手機存照，每一張都是珍藏，背後藏著從「建立友誼 認識彼此」到「締結姊妹盟」的跨國故事。這次就由經緯青年商會 1994年會長 陳穗芬參議員 帶領我們了解JCI國際事務的魅力。

其時分會已有新加坡姊妹會，其後尋找日本姊妹會的想法漸漸萌芽，恰在 1994 年的一次 Joint Directors Meeting 上得知，沖繩 JCI 正尋香港姊妹會，與時任分會董事局成員們商議下，舉手表示興趣。於是開啟與沖繩分會傳真和後來的郵件溝通和對話；一來一往的文字交流，也讓後來的見面更顯珍貴。

TWINNING AGREEMENT

The Origin of a Bonding in Old Photos

The old photos in the headquarters office have captured the moment when our first JCI Queensway team traveled to Okinawa to commerce the sisterhood chapter journey– smiles and clasped hands instantly transported us back to an era without mobile phones and social media. Senator Iris Chan and Senator Jeff, who served as the President of JCI Queensway in 1994 and 1995 respectively, They paved the way for our sisterhood poet with JCI Okinawa.

As early as 1991, our chapter had a sister chapter in Singapore, but our relationship was “Luke warm” due to lack of meetings and with no offline interactions. As such, there was the desire to seek a sister chapter in Japan. By destiny, at a Joint Directors Meeting, the team learned that Okinawa JCI was looking for a Hong Kong sister chapter–thus planting the seed for this mutual opportunity.

In the era without the internet, our impression of Okinawa was filled with vague images of "sunshine and beaches." With the approval of the Board of Directors and the facilitation of Senator Ronald Ho, the 1994 National President of JCI Hong Kong, our chapter began engaging with JCI Okinawa Chapter. Initially, we communicated via fax, and later by email. At that time, international long-distance calls were expensive, and we could not speak Japanese and only one member from JCI Okinawa side was fluent in English. These "slow-paced" written exchanges made every subsequent face-to-face meeting all the more precious.

An Encounter That Creates New Impressions

The first time when PP Iris and PP Jeff met members of the JCI Okinawa Chapter, the Okinawan friends had healthy skin tone, carried the sunny vibe unique to islanders, loved wearing bright-colored clothes with vivid patterns (in a casual style reminiscent of Hawaii), and exuded warmth the moment they met.

When the Okinawa members first visited Hong Kong: Okinawa has warm weather all year round, so they struggled to adapt to the indoor air conditioning in Hong Kong. Every time they dined at a restaurant, they had to borrow shawls to keep warm–the layers of fabrics on them created a delightful contrast with the light attire of the Hong Kong members. A professional interpreter ensured smooth communication. Though no one could remember exactly how many days they stayed, the laughter around the dinner table and the solemnity of exchanging souvenirs became warm shared memories.

Later, the chapter organized a visit to Okinawa for its members. A pre-arranged meeting to greet the Mayor of Okinawa City was announced. PP Iris and PP Jeff were taken by surprise. Since they were the pioneers, they have to figure out how to handle the occasion appropriately. Fortunately, they were in good business attire, and during the meeting with the Mayor, they tried to stay calm though their voices trembled. With no instant messaging tools to consult anyone, PP Iris and PP Jeff could only muddle through with each other. This exciting experience built their confidence in other international events.

沖繩初體驗

初見沖繩分會夥伴，他們膚色健康、帶海島陽光氣息，愛穿色彩鮮豔、花紋靈動的衣服，有夏威夷隨性風，熱情撲面而來。他們初到香港的時候：因沖繩常年天氣和暖，沖繩分會的夥伴難適應香港室內空調，每次酒樓聚餐都借披肩保暖，他們身上的層層織物與香港會員的輕裝形成有趣對比。靠沖繩會友確保交流順利，餐桌笑聲與交換紀念品的喜悅，成了彼此溫暖的記憶。

後來組織本會會友赴沖繩探訪，行程中原來安排了拜會沖繩市市長 —— 當時時任會長的PP Iris 和擔任副會長的PP Jeff （編按：1995 年會長 Senator Jean-Francois Arnold）毫無準備和經驗，幸好習慣備有正裝連夜燙整，才體面赴約。見市長時強裝鎮定，聲音卻發顫，無即時通訊可請教任何人，只能和 PP Jeff 硬著頭皮應對，倒也沒有失了任何禮節。這次「趕鴨子上架」，也為後來國際交流添了底氣：未知不可怕，敢邁步就有辦法。

語言不通也能成朋友

JCI 歲月裡，除姊妹會情誼，全球會議足跡亦珍貴 —— 新加坡、台北、釜山、濟州、巴黎、神戶、金澤、愛丁堡、德國、中山……，PP Iris 如數家珍地訴說每趟行程都有驚喜。

台北會議上，當地會員除了一盡地主之誼帶我們觀燒，我們的PP Jeff 竟然帶著我們一群人在城巷裡「探祕」，找到一個隱秘 Disco 的場所；而在台北會議中，時任總統李登輝突然現身，台灣會員紛紛起立鼓掌的自豪，讓人感受「身份認同」的力量。

釜山之行有高規格驚喜，韓國總統親臨；濟州之行需經漢城（現首爾）轉機，折騰一天，初嘗活章魚刺身，新奇又刺激。語言不通成趣點：濟州行缺韓語人才，找會日語的「硬撐」翻譯，中英日韓語混搭交流加上肢體動作，常引全場笑。

而在全球國際青年商會的歷史中，僅辦兩屆 World Summit Meeting（地點分別是巴黎和中山）最為令PP Iris 難忘：當時以總會執行副會長身份參與，同維多利亞分會會長(已故 沈會長）同行前往巴黎出席，在塞納河上享受遊船晚餐、在埃菲爾鐵塔頂層派對，中途還受德國總會會長邀請，與多國的總會會長乘坐包機，出席德國的周年大會（National Convention)，這份「專屬待遇」至今仍覺幸運。

Friendship Transcends Language Barriers

In the years with JCI, apart from the fellowship with sister chapters, the memories of international conferences around the world are equally precious. From different parts of the world, such as Taipei, Japan, Edinburgh, Paris, to ZhongShan, every trip was filled with surprises.

At the 1992 Taipei conference, a young Frenchman, our Senator Jean-Francois Arnold, who served as JCI President in 1995, led the JCI Queensway members through the city's alleys, where we found a huge disco venue. During the same Taipei conference, Mr Lee Teng-hui (then President of Taiwan) made a sudden appearance, and the Taiwanese JC members stood up and applauded enthusiastically.

The trip to Busan brought a high-profile surprise: the President of South Korea attended the conference in person. The trip to Jeju required a transfer via Seoul and took a whole day of travel; the team tried live octopus sashimi for the first time, which was both novel and thrilling. Language barriers turned out to be a source of fun: during the Jeju trip, with a shortage of Korean speakers, they had to ask members who could speak Japanese to help as "interpreters". The mixed use of Chinese, English, Japanese, and Korean, paired with hand gestures, often made the whole room burst into laughter.

In the history of JCI worldwide, the World Summit Meeting–held only twice–left the most unforgettable experience on PP Iris. At that time, she attended the meeting in Paris as the National Executive Vice President of JCI Hong Kong; she was accompanied by the President of the Victoria Chapter. We enjoyed a lunch cruise on the River Seine and a party on the top floor of the Eiffel Tower–this "exclusive treatment" still feels like a precious privilege to her today. And more, we were invited by JCI Germany onto their charter flight, and made a day-trip with other National Presidents to join the National Convention of JCI Germany.

Courage Matters More Than Ability

Years of experience in JCI have led to a key insight: joining JCI does not require perfect abilities, but it does need the courage to try.

Young members often hesitate on daring to attend international conferences; some may feel their English is not good enough, others may dare to run for leadership positions due to a lack of experience. However, the reality is that in JCI settings, sincerity in communication is valued more than anything else–you will always get a response as long as you are willing to speak up. Many members gradually improve their language skills through diligent communication. While a solid financial foundation is important, an open mindset is even more crucial as the basis to lead. There were times when members felt wronged or anxious while pushing forward with projects in JCI, but later they realized that losses in JCI are temporary, whereas soft powers like compassion and tolerance are permanently valuable. The 1994 Chapter Presidents who once endured pressure together still meet regularly; they can always laugh when talking about past moments and hardships–this "fellowship" is far closer than ordinary friendships.

For young members, JCI is a window that encourages you to open yourself up to the world: it lets you experience the warmth of Okinawa, understand that friendship can transcend language barriers, and discover that cultural differences make communication more interesting. Things that once seemed impossible will eventually become precious medals of growth.

勇氣比能力更重要

多年在青商的經歷讓人悟得：入會無需完美能力，卻需敢嘗試的勇氣。

年輕會員常憂英文差不敢赴國際會議、無經驗不敢競選領導崗位，但實際上：國際場合更重溝通誠意，只要肯開口便有回應，令不少人在不斷的交流中漸漸提升語言能力。經濟基礎重要，心態開放更關鍵。曾因在青商中進行工作計劃時或會有委屈或感到焦慮的時刻，後來才明白，在青商裡失去是暫時的，協調力、包容心等軟實力才永久珍貴。PP Iris分享當年共扛壓力的1994年會長們，如今仍定期聚餐，聊過往糗事與辛酸，共吃喝、開懷大笑，是人生一大樂趣。

對年輕會員而言，青商是一道讓你主動打開世界的窗：沖繩的熱情，即使語言不通也能交友，文化差異讓交流更有趣，曾覺難成的事，終成成長勳章。

STARTING WITH SISTER CHAPTER, SPANNING GLOBAL HORIZONS

JCI Queensway Publication Team

Hi! This is Samuel from JCI Queensway🙋‍♂️.

Thank you, Past P Terry and Past P Wynz Sir, for answering some questions about our sisterhood! I'd love to hear your stories!

Let's start with a throwback: what was your FIRST IMPRESSION of each other's chapters?

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

Samuel, Haha, nice to chat with a young Queensway member like you. My first KLM memory? 2015 ASPAC, at a seaside bar. Those guys were so lively, I couldn't help but join their table!

Funny thing: back then, KLM had almost no female members –all guys, but super welcoming. What stuck was their camaraderie–we laughed over beers🍻 , talked about JCI, and even joked about "future collaborations."

That night felt like meeting old friends, not strangers.

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

For JCI Queensway, my first thought was that You guys were energetic, but not chaotic–professional, but warm. When we sat down to talk about JCI, I could tell every Queensway member cared deeply about making an impact.

And there's this unity in your chapter–Felt like, "These are people we can build something further with."

JCI Queensway Publication Team

That's such a cool start! I always wonder–what made you both think, "We HAVE to be sister chapters"? It must've been a big call back then.

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

Great question, Samuel. For QJC, there were two things: rarity and fit. Twinning two chapters from different countries (HK and Malaysia!) and cultures! That doesn't happen every day. We already had a sister chapter in Okinawa, but KLM felt different–we hit it off instantly at ASPAC 2015.

Plus, we both speak Cantonese and English, so no awkward language barriers when planning stuff. JCI emphasizes transcending national boundaries and fostering brotherhood, so twinning perfectly aligns with our mission.

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

Terry said it well. It wasn't just "let's check a box"–it was "this is a perfect match." QJC and KLM share the same goals: growing leaders, helping communities. And the friendship between our members? It came naturally. We didn't have to force conversations–we'd chat about everything, from JCI events to local food. For me, that's when I knew: sisterhood wasn't just a good idea, it was the right one.

JCI Queensway Publication Team

I love that it was so organic! What's the MOST MEMORABLE MOMENT you have had with each other's chapter? I bet there are stories I've never heard before.

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

Oh, easy–2017 ASPAC in Mongolia, signing the twinning agreement. As Queensway President, I stood up there with Wynz, and it felt like a movie! The whole room was watching, and our members were excited. It wasn't just a signature–it was making our bond official. And after that, all the trips we had together! When KLM came to HK, we took them to eat cha chaan teng and hotpot.

When we went to KL, Wynz showed us a hidden satay stall–best I've ever had. Those casual moments were what made the sisterhood real.

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

Mongolia was unforgettable–Samuel, you should've seen the smiles on everyone's faces! But I also think about the pandemic. We couldn't meet in person, so we did online "International Leadership Forums" and cultural exchanges with QJC. Terry's team taught us how to make HK-style milk tea over Zoom, and we showed you guys how to fold "ketupat" (rice dumplings) for Hari Raya. It was silly, but it kept our friendship alive. Even when borders were closed, we didn't lose touch–that's special.

JCI Queensway Publication Team

Zoom milk tea and ketupat? That's amazing! Speaking of trips–if KLM comes to HK again, PP Terry, what local spots would you take them to (no tourist traps!)? And PP Wynz, if QJC goes to KL, what's a must-do for us juniors?

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

Tourist traps are out–local gems only! Since many of KLM members have been to HK before, I would love to take them to hidden gems, such as local hotpot shops, that they would never have seen from their usual online travel research!

For JCI receptions, it's not just food–it's quality bonding with each other through a unique and authentic look into Hong Kong lives and culture. That's the fun part.

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

Hotpot sounds perfect–count me in! For KL, Samuel, I'd skip the malls. Take QJC to Hulu Langat: hike the waterfalls in the morning, then eat nasi lemak at a roadside warung. Then, later, a traditional Malay massage.

Trust me, cultural and heritage spots beat tourist spots every time. We will be happy to share our culture and perspectives with you any day!

JCI Queensway Publication Team

Now I'm hungry! Next question: Were there any collaborations that you think were MOST IMPACTFUL for both chapters? I want to learn from what worked for you.

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

For us, it's our "Extraordinary Branding Awards"–our business flagship project. KLM has amazing insights into local Malaysian businesses, so if we team up, we can add international flair to the awards. And when KLM needs judges for their business events? We send HK experts to give global perspectives. It's a win-win: better projects, and you juniors get to work with people from another country. That's how you grow.

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

Terry's right about the business collab, but for me, the Mongolia signing was the most impactful. It wasn't just paperwork–it showed our members that cross-border friendship works. After that, more juniors started reaching out to each other–asking for advice, joining joint events. It empowered you guys to think bigger.

That's the real impact: inspiring the next generation.

JCI Queensway Publication Team

That's exactly what I needed to hear–thank you! Last question: JCI has four focus areas. Why does International Affairs stand out to you? I'm still figuring out which area I want to dive into.

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

Great to hear you're exploring, Samuel! For me, International Affairs is what makes JCI unique. Not many organizations let you work with people from other countries–let alone build real friendships. The name says it all: Junior Chamber International. Those opportunities? They teach you to think globally, communicate better, and even open doors for your career. I always tell juniors: take every international chance you get. You'll learn more about the world–and yourself–than you think.

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

erry said it perfectly. When you work with QJC, you don't just learn about HK culture–you learn how to solve problems with people who see the world differently. It allows us to celebrate diversity, exchange innovative ideas, and form lifelong friendships.
For me, it's the global mindset and mutual learning that makes it so inspiring - we grow not just as leaders, but as global citizens.

JCI Queensway Publication Team

I feel so inspired now–thank you both for sharing all these stories! I'll definitely pass these on to the other juniors. And when we plan the next trip, I'm first in line for hotpot (and Malay massage later, PP Wynz!)

TC

JCI Queensway 2017 President Senator Terry Chan

Hahaha, smart kid! Hotpot first –massage can wait (but only a little). 😉😎😎

WS

JCI Kuala Lumpur Madrian 2017 President Dato' Sri Wynz See

Deal! And Samuel–if you ever have more questions, just reach out. That's what seniors are for.

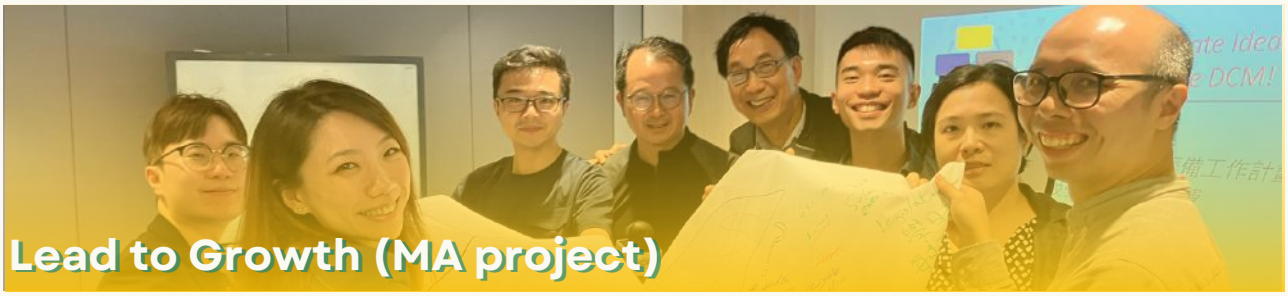

JCI Queensway Publication Team

I feel so inspired now–thank you both for sharing all these stories! I'll definitely pass these on to the other juniors. And when we plan the next trip, I'm first in line for hotpot (and Malay massage later, PP Wynz!)

AREA SUMMARY

Community Development

Wheels Move Together

Centered on the flagship project “” (Nov 2024–Aug 2025), this initiative addressed wheelchair users’ physical inactivity, social isolation, and limited accessibility, leveraging the 2025 National Games (first time in HK) to advocate for inclusive sports and barrier-free environments.

It hosted 3 major sport activities (Ice Curling in Apr, Sailing in Jun, Rouliqiu & Closing Ceremony in Aug) with over 160 total participants, secured 20+ media coverages (reaching 70 million+ views), and presented survey findings (151 wheelchair-user respondents—only 5.3% met WHO sports recommendations, 37.1% had no exercise weekly, over 90% demanded more barrier-free facilities) to LegCo Member Dr. Tik Chi-yuen to urge policy improvements.

The project collaborated with 17 NGOs (e.g., the Direction Association for the Handicapped), HK Education University (for survey analysis), and celebrities (e.g., TVB artist Leo Kwan as ambassador)

Business Affairs

Extraordinary Branding Award

Focused on boosting brand visibility, securing strategic partnerships, and ensuring financial sustainability, this area achieved 537 media mentions (152% increase from 2024) with over 150 million viewers (covering Wheels Move Together and Extraordinary Branding Award) and consistently showcased JCI corporate identity (logos on banners, posters, PPTs) to reinforce brand recognition. It built 305 connections with government bodies (e.g., LegCo, Home Affairs Department), NGOs, corporations, and sponsors—including 30+ key partnerships with financial institutions—and secured MOUs with business stakeholders (e.g., China Bank Hangzhou, Yuexiu Industrial Development Co.) for member development and cross-border resources. Financially, it secured diversified funding (cash sponsorships for Wheels Move Together, in-kind support, participant fees) and maintained zero loss across flagship projects, with transparent budget management (electronic records, shared drive documentation).
